Rusty's Rendezvous

Things are looking up for shelter animals in Oakland County. Rusty's Rendezvous, a new permanent pet-adoption site at Oakland Pet Adoption Center in Auburn Hills, is gearing up for a spring full of successful adoption events. The $20,000 structure, which is a large outdoor gazebo area, provides an accessible and highly visible public place for rescue groups and shelters to use year-round, for free. The site was made possible by the Oakland Pet Fund, a newly formed charity dedicated to bringing the "No More Homeless Pets" campaign created by Best Friends Animal

Sanctuary in Kanab, Utah, to Oakland County. "The absolute key for so many of these rescue facilities is to get the animals out of the shelters and into the public," says board member Linda Wasche. Rusty's Rendezvous is dedicated to Wasche's father, the late Michael Wasche of Shelby Township, and his dog Rusty, who was rescued as a stray. Rusty's Rendezvous is located at 1700 Brown Rd in Auburn Hills. For details call the Oakland Pet Adoption Center at (248) 391-4100.
